

speculations during December, 1916.

CHIFFERFIELD BOMBARDS HIM, BUT HE IS QUIET AND WARY.

Lawson grew wary, fending off all probes into his own transactions. In a minute there was a stormy controversy, Chifferfield roaring and jabbing question after question with Lawson, who was alertly quiet, wary and evasive.

He said he was not a member of any stock exchange but dealt through brokers. The only broker he could recall was H. Content & Co., No. 111 Broadway, New York, although his orders might spread through a score of other brokers.

Lawson said that during December he bought and sold stocks and dealt in U. S. Steel but how many shares he really could not tell.

"To what extent did you operate in steel?" was asked.

"I couldn't tell, and I am not going to guess," replied Lawson. "I buy and sell many stocks; perhaps I did so every day during December.

He had no record of the transactions.

"Do you carry the record of your transactions in your mind?"

"Absolutely."

Time and again Lawson declared he did not know how much trading he did and he wasn't going to guess. He really could not tell whether it was 100,000 or 1,000,000,000 shares.

Getting nowhere along this line, Chifferfield tried to get the names of the brokers and beneficiary referred to in one of Lawson's public telegrams as having been discussed in secret conference last week between himself and Chairman Henry.

"That was confidential," replied Lawson.

"I have no objection to the witness stating anything we discussed in our conference," said Chifferfield.

"Did you mention any name to Mr. Henry as the so-called leaker?"

"I absolutely did not."

"The so-called beneficiary?"

"I did not."

After heated controversy two direct questions were put to Lawson, demanding the name of the Congressman and the name of the cabinet officer, a Senator and a banker were in a stock pool.

AGAIN HE IS DECLARED TO BE IN CONTEMPT.

"I refuse," said Lawson.

For the second time the committee voted 10-0 against Chifferfield and to have him taken before the House. And for the second time action was postponed.

A compromise was proposed by Representative Cantwell, who asked: "In case this committee votes favorably to report to the House for an investigation and the House adopts and the Speaker appoints a select committee for a final and thorough investigation, will you give to that committee the names of the Congressman and the Cabinet officer mentioned in your telegram?"

"I will!" replied Lawson emphatically.

Lawson persistently refused to disclose the names to the Rules Committee, but he eagerly promised that if the House appointed a special committee for a complete investigation of Wall Street he would give the names to it.

Lawson proclaimed that he did not confess responsibility for his investigation or whether the "leak" was discovered and the leaker punished. It was a mere side issue. What he wanted was a sweeping investigation of Wall Street and the Stock Exchanges.

Chairman Henry, of the Rules Committee, while not supporting Lawson, favors the same proposition. He told the House that every man serving a broad and sweeping investigation that would rip Wall Street to the bottom."

ASKS APPROVAL FOR CENTRAL TRACKS BILL.

Quinn (Rep.) Wants Aldermen to Endorse Measure Giving Public Service Commission Jurisdiction.

Alderman William F. Quinn, Republican, of the Fifteenth Manhattan District, which is on the west side above Fifty-ninth Street, introduced to-day at the regular weekly meeting a resolution recommending that the Board of Aldermen recommend to the Legislature the adoption of the Attinger-Elliobogen Bill, which has already been introduced in both houses in Albany.

The bill would transfer from the Board of Estimate to the Public Service Commission jurisdiction over the proposed plans by which the New York Central tracks are to be eliminated as a West Side nuisance. Alderman Quinn's resolution was referred by the Democratic Board to the Committee on General Welfare.

ASSOCIATED PRESS SEEKS TO ENJOIN INTERNATIONAL

Gets Order to Show Cause Why It Should Not Be Forbidden to Use A. F. War Despatches.

Frederic B. Jennings of Stetson, Jennings & Russell, counsel for the Associated Press, got from Federal Judge A. N. Hand yesterday an order directing the International News Service to show cause why it should not be enjoined from distributing news gathered by the Associated Press at the European war front, in foreign countries. The order is returnable to-morrow in the Federal Court in the Woolworth Building.

Fred J. Wilson, general manager of the International News Service, said last night:

"The main grievance of the Associated Press seems to be that the International News Service uses news gathered from early publications of Associated Press despatches. Every newspaper must know that every press service uses news in that way and has the right to do so. If that is an offense the Associated Press is an old offender."

REVERENTLOW'S ATTACK ON GERARD'S SPEECH IN BERLIN

Reventlow Says Ambassador Must Have Lost All Sense of Diplomatic Propriety.

HIS RECALL DEMANDED.

Manchester - Guardian Con- strues Speech as Really a Warning to Germany.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 9.—Press versions of what American Ambassador Gerard said at the recent banquet of the American Association of Commerce and Trade have aroused violent denunciation from the advocates of ruthless submarinings, according to despatches from Berlin.

Count von Reventlow, leading advocate of the von Tirpitz system of unlimited use of submarines, was quoted as declaring the American Ambassador "must have lost all sense of diplomatic propriety in thus meddling in Germany's internal affairs."

Other leaders of the von Reventlow type were said to be urging a demand by Germany for Gerard's recall, on the ground that his expressions of opinion as to the continuance of the efforts of certain German leaders of the conciliatory group exceeded his prerogatives.

That part of Gerard's speech to which the von Tirpitz adherents violently object, as reported by the official Press Bureau and sent out by wireless, read:

"Never since the beginning of the war have the relations between Germany and the United States been as cordial as now. . . . I personally am convinced that as long as Germany's fate is directed by such men as my friend the Chancellor and Dr. Helfferich and Dr. Wolf; by Admirals von Capelle, Haltenzendorff and von Mueller; by Generals von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, and, last but not least, by my friend Zimmermann, the relations between the two countries are running no risk."

The Boersen Zeitung, Berlin's leading financial organ, seizes upon the dinner as an opportunity to discuss peace again. "It declares that the banquet had unusual importance and expresses almost enthusiasm at the cordial relations existing between the United States and Germany as it finds them in the expressions of the speakers. The papers declare Germany will welcome every support America may lend to the peace movement, 'so long as it does not attempt to narrow or foil the acquisition of a peace worthy of Germany and the efforts of her fighters.'"

The paper warns Americans that they must not expect the German people to be deeply grateful for peace efforts.

"Such a speech at the present time is significant. We have always in Germany that good relations between Germany and America were important. Ambassador Gerard's words at the present moment, in the presence of the most important German statesmen, industrial leaders and business men, betoken that the leading circles in America understand our situation. They do not attribute the guilt for the war to us and that they are seeking to hasten the end."

WARNING TO BERLIN. ONE BRITISH VIEW OF GERARD'S SPEECH

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Manchester Guardian in its comment on Ambassador Gerard's speech in Berlin, says it regards it as a plain warning to Germany.

"The versions of the speech deserve careful study," the newspaper declares, "because they throw a good deal of light on the inner mind of diplomats. After quoting the version of the Ambassador's remarks in which he is made to say that so long as Germany's destiny is conducted by her present leaders he did not fear that the relations between Germany and the United States would suffer, the Guardian continues:

"That is the diplomatic way of saying that if more extreme parties came into power, or if the present rulers of Germany yielded to their clamor, he would not like to say what might happen. Evidently Mr. Gerard is anxious to support the Chancellor and his associates against the attacks of the von Tirpitz clique and wild annexationists, and he is anxious to do that because he thinks the triumph of the opposition would mean very serious trouble between Germany and the United States. It is important that the English people should understand the angle at which Mr. Gerard stands."

"Devious and strange," says the Liverpool Post, "are the ways of diplomacy, abounding in pitfalls for those who walk therein. The usage of diplomatic service no doubt renders it inevitable that Mr. Gerard should dissemble what we may take to be his real opinion of Germany so long as she remains United States Ambassador in Berlin."

"A conscientious neutral, a conscientious American neutral, who is obliged to give public utterance to such sentiments—if he is obliged—while the Lusitania crime still cries for atonement and neutral ships are obliged to be being wantonly sunk by the half-dozens at the behest of the 'excellent statesmen and leaders,' is to be pitied,"

NEW DEMAND GIVES GREECE ONLY 24 HOURS MORE

New Ultimatum From Entente Powers Handed to King Con- stantine's Government.

PIRAEUS, Greece, Jan. 9 (via London).—Ministers of the Entente powers to-day handed to the Greek Government an ultimatum giving Greece forty-eight hours to comply with the demands contained in the note drawn up by France, Great Britain and Russia on Dec. 31.

The Entente note to Greece demands that all Greek forces outside of Peloponnese be reduced to a number strictly necessary to the reservation of order; that all meetings of reservists in Greece north of the Isthmus of Corinth be prohibited; that all persons detained for high treason or for other political reasons be released forthwith; that the commandant of the first army corps be dismissed, and that the Greek Government make apologies to the allies' ministers and flags at some public spot in Athens.

REPLY OF ALLIES EXPECTED TO-DAY; LONDON CONFIDENT

Will Be Disappointed if En- tente Answer Fails to Sat- isfy Americans.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Despite statements to the contrary, it is understood that the Allies' reply to the President's note will be sent from Paris to-day.

There will be great disappointment and surprise here if the note fails to meet with the approval of the United States, as all the powers concerned are said to have been anxious to make it, as far as possible, a real reply to the President's inquiries.

Publication of the note is not expected until forty-eight hours after it is received, as it is believed arrangements have been made for its simultaneous publication. It is said the note has undergone considerable changes since the first draft, and the Near East question is reported to have been considered at much greater length than was first considered probable.

ATHENS, Jan. 9 (via London).—The reply of the Greek government to President Wilson's peace note was communicated yesterday to Garrett Droppers, the American Minister in Athens. The reply associates Greece heartily with the President's efforts in behalf of peace.

15,696 BRITISH OFFICERS KILLED DURING THE WAR

This Was the Figure at the End of October—Total Casualties Among Them 53,122.

LONDON, Dec. 31 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Casualty lists published by the War Office show that in October the British army lost 4,378 officers, of whom 1,459 were killed, 2,738 wounded and 182 are missing. In November the total was 2,306, of whom 806 were killed, 1,386 wounded and 113 are missing.

These figures bring the total losses among officers since the beginning of the war to 53,122, of whom 15,696 have been killed or died of wounds, 33,337 wounded and 3,456 are missing.

A large proportion of the wounded have since returned to duty and the total under the heading of missing includes a proportion since reported as prisoners of war.

ROUMANIAN CIVILIANS DYING BY THOUSANDS

Overseas Agency Reports Terrible Suffering Among Women and Children Who Fled to Russia.

BERLIN, Jan. 9 (By wireless to Sayville).—Thousands of refugees from Roumania are perishing along the roads in Bessarabia, the Overseas News Agency reports.

"Roumania is suffering the same fate as Serbia," says the News Agency. "The Russian Government has ordered that Roumanian refugees must not be permitted to remain in Bessarabia but must be transported eastward."

"The railroads are overcrowded and refugees, lacking even wagons, are compelled to go on foot. On the narrow-gauge difficult roads in severe weather, thousands of women, children and old men are dying miserably."

"All the men between the ages of sixteen and sixty are being detained by the Russian authorities for the army, and scores of men are being driven unmercifully to combat."

RUSSIA'S STRIKE AT THE RIGA FRONT

MAKES HEADWAY

Assuming the Proportions of a Continued Offensive, Say London Despatches.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Russia's thrust at the Riga front assumed the importance of a continued offensive to-day. It has already gained considerable ground against the German columns and was apparently proceeding to-day with extraordinarily violent fighting.

It is along the reaches of the Aa river apparently that the most bitter fighting is proceeding. Russian forces have made an advance in this sector. Artillery firing has increased violently all along the line.

The Russian troops are said to be equipped with great quantities of munitions and backed by large reserves. The weather is frosty and snow and the country covered with snow.

Despatches from Copenhagen quote the correspondent of the Tægtiche Tidsschau as saying the Russians attempted a surprise attack on Sunday night near the Riga bridgehead. Great masses of the attackers, with white shirts over their uniforms, succeeded in entering the German trenches on a front of a thousand meters. The correspondent says that evidently an attempt was being made to break through the road between Mitau and Riga.

The Germans, seeing the danger, sent all available reserves into the battle reaching a pitch of tremendous fury. A thousand Russian soldiers were shot by the Germans until sunset when, according to the correspondent, the Russians retreated to their previous positions without having that had been reckoned with blood.

BERLIN, via Sayville wireless, Jan. 9.—A Russian attack, made in a dense snowstorm, recaptured the small island of Gaudon, north of Blux, taken from them by German forces on Jan. 4 to-day's official statement said in describing the fighting south of Riga.

Renewed advances on both sides of the Aa river were completely repulsed, the statement asserted. Nightly meetings of the Russian and German representatives between Friederichstadt and the road from Mitau to Olai were unsuccessful.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE ON FRENCH FRONT

Paris Reports an Unsuccessful Attempt by Germans to Raid Trenches.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—North of the Oise, after a lively bombardment last night, the Germans attempted unsuccessfully to raid a French trench near Ribecourt, the War Office announced to-day.

BERLIN (via Sayville Wireless), Jan. 9.—The German army's long-distance artillery firing on both sides of the Oise, in the face of the clear weather, to-day's official report from the western war front announced.

Lat Observer Swope Says War Will Last Eighteen Months.

Herbert Bayard Swope, who recently returned from a trip to Germany as a special observer for The World, was the principal speaker last night at the quarterly meeting of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick at the Hotel Astor. He was introduced by Justice Victor J. Dowling, newly elected President of the organization.

Mr. Swope declared the United States would be the leader in bringing peace, but said he would be surprised if peace would come before a year and a half. He described conditions in Germany as a smaller host of Russian raiding detachments, the blockade of Germany by the Allies, the blacklist and interference with the Allies with mails to neutral countries.

In addressing twelve new members of the Board of Education to-day Mayor Mitchell spoke to them at some length at the City Hall.

AND GOVERNMENT HER ON SUFFRAGE, SAYS
WILSON TO WOMEN

I have Done My Best, but Party Hasn't Indorsed Constitutional Amendment."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Wilson told 300 Suffragists who visited him at the White House to-day to present memorial resolutions eulogizing Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, as he could not understand why other Suffragists did not realize that the Democratic Party was doing more for them than the Republican party and that he had always done his best for the movement.

Miss Maud Younger and Mrs. Sara Ward Field, spokesmen for the delegation, urged the President to lend support to the pending constitutional amendment for suffrage.

"I do not need to tell you," the president said, "where my own conviction and my personal purpose lie, and I need not tell you by circumlocution I am bound as the leader of a party. As the leader of a party, my commands come from the party, and not from private personal considerations.

"My personal action as a citizen, of course, comes from no source but my own conviction, and therefore my position has been so frequently and so firmly, so candidly defined.

"It is impossible for me, until the orders of my party are changed, to do anything other than I am doing as a party leader. If I think nothing more is necessary to be said.

"I do want to say this: I do not know anybody can fail to observe from the utterances of the last campaign that the Democratic Party more inclined than the opposition party to assist in this great cause and has been a matter of surprise to others in this country, as in every other part of the world, because of soul for this cause seemed so naturally to misunderstand and misinterpret the attitude of the parties, because in this country, as in every other self-governing country, it is through the instrumentality of parties that things can be accomplished."

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water
in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headaches, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep the body poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphate hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water act before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—Adv't.

Sounded Before Appointment.

He acknowledged that he had sounded them as to their views on the duplicate school plan or modified Gary plan, military training for public schools and a smaller Board of Education, explaining he would not have appointed them had they not favored his advocacy of all these schemes.
